Origami Sharing Series No.28 Total 84th Issue Beginning Number 02

Origami student Takayama CP origami opening number 2019-02-10

Hello everyone, welcome to CP Opening!

Regarding the works of the early machine series, I originally wanted to meet with you earlier, but many things made these works come to you so late, I am really sorry. During the Chinese New Year, I plan to make three consecutive games, but after all, it is still a matter of time. MS has a seven or eight-day period, but the real effective vacation is still very short.

I do n't know if the initial phone number of the previous issue has been discounted, but this period is slightly more difficult. If the friends who are unwilling to do it in the previous period may not be discounted this time!

Now let 's get to know the work that we are going to fold today.

Works in this issue: Square 40 * 40 part 80

This is a piece of fine line drawing work. First, we will divide the paper into 40 equal parts, and then refine it.
Now, please prepare the paper with me and check the line together!

The stack of paper in the figure below is the lined paper. If you are folding such a work for the first time, please use a relatively large piece of paper, such as full paper.

Next, unroll the lined paper and prepare it for polymerization.

This time, we will divide the area first and then aggregate. First, we will fold the paper in half and then divide the paper into two areas

Next, we will press the red part of the paper as shown below, and gather all the oblique squares at the bottom and converge to the legs at the same time.

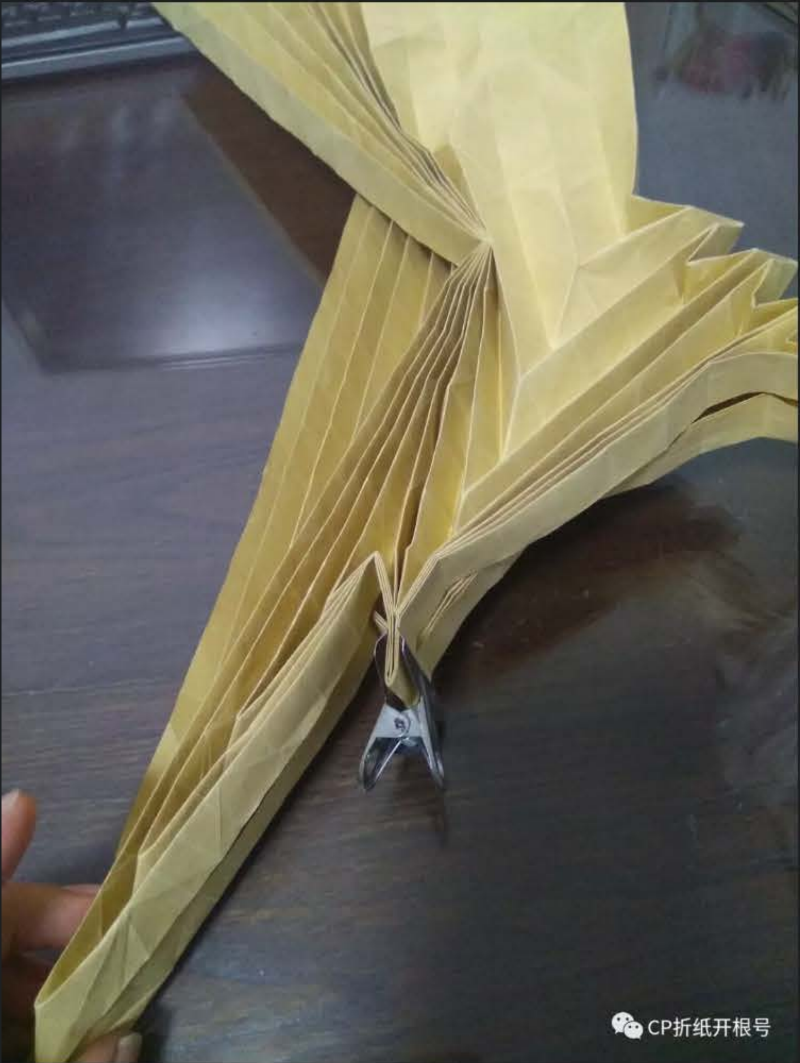
Polymerize the other side



Next, we follow the green line in the figure below, and converge from the bottom to the top.

After the inflection points are aggregated on both sides, we will pull out the two black boxes in the image below and converge. See the left part of the image for details.

Now proceed on the other side, the same method

Below we start to aggregate the relatively difficult parts, the body

According to the picture below, we still start from the red box in the middle and gather from the bottom to the top.

Here we fold according to CP, first complete the part below the chest

In the picture above, we pull away the head and chest to be aggregated, but the chest is relatively difficult. We first complete the head and other related parts. As shown in the following figure, we leave the chest and complete the head first. Top-down aggregation stage

Let's first complete the sawtooth-like structure on both sides of the head

Step by step

In the figure below, we have completed a part of the head structure. Next, we further complete the green part, so that the black line under the head is combined with the green line.

Same practice on both sides

The next step is to start marching toward the chest. Here we need to pay attention to the difference between the red and black blocks in the picture below. For dark CP, the most direct way is to look at the finished picture.

The following figure is the process diagram. In order to let everyone see the inner paper layer, there is no compression.

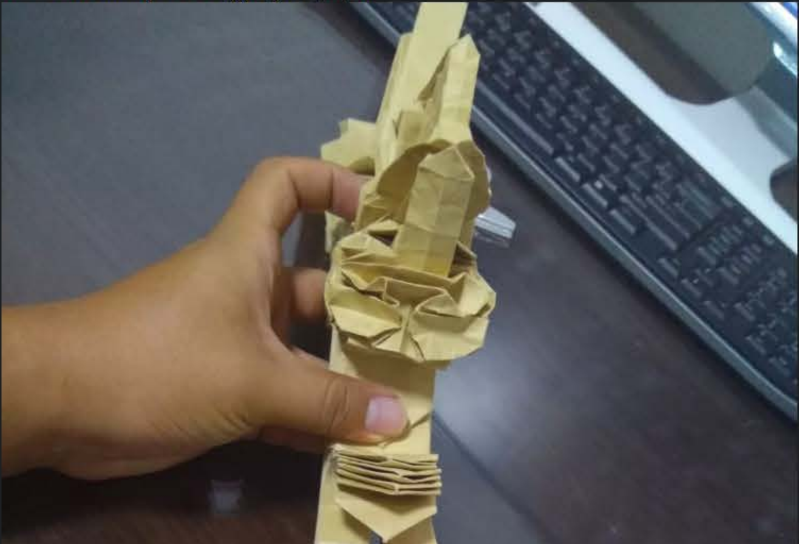
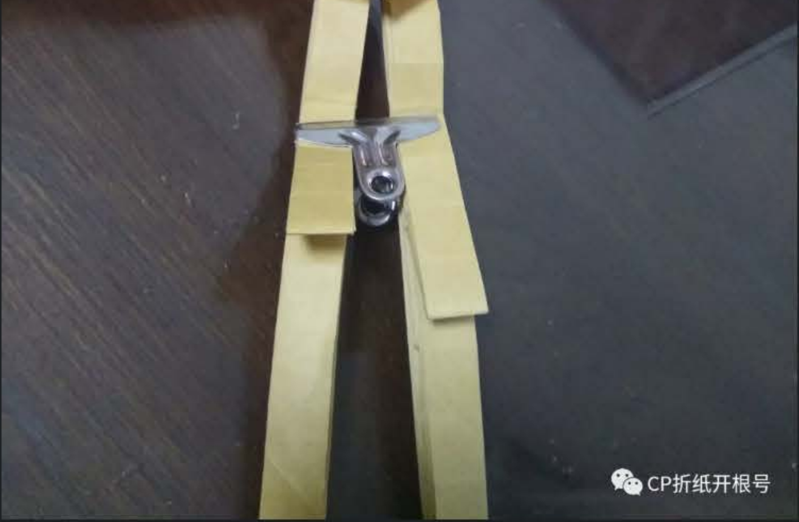
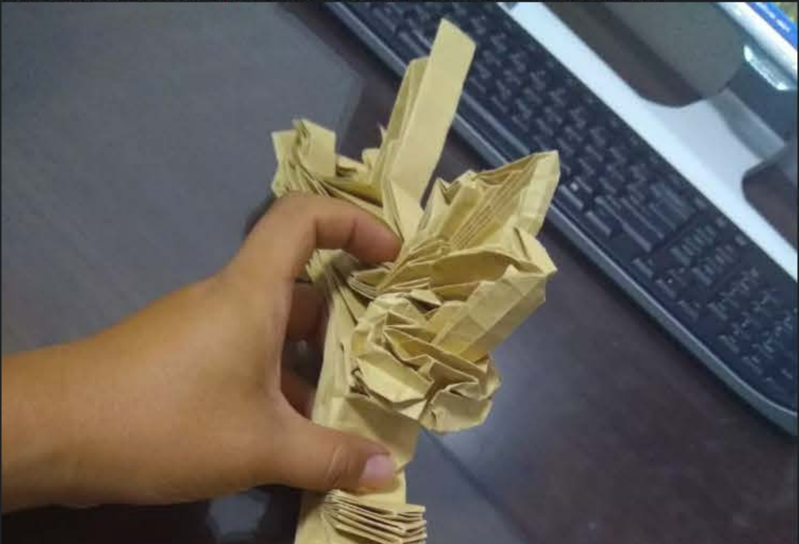
Next is the compacted aggregate graph.

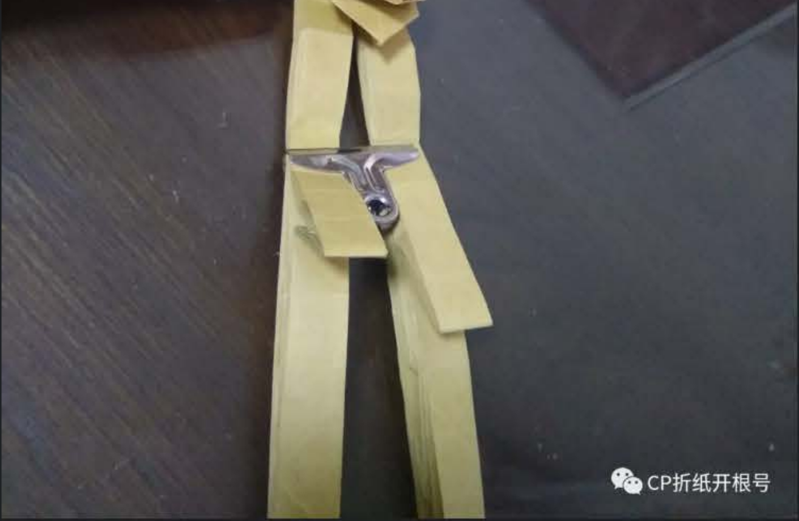




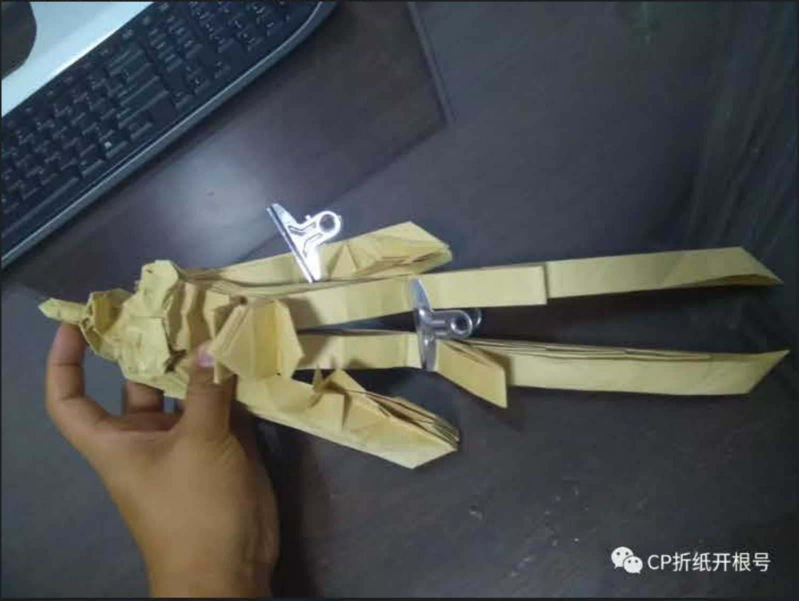
Even if the aggregation is over here, everyone is successful! ? ? Did you succeed?

Below I will simply take some pictures of the shaping process for everyone, because this work is a bit difficult in part of the shaping process, so give some ideas!





First we use clips to fix parts of the body



The first step is to adjust the structure of the chest so that the closer to the finished picture, the better

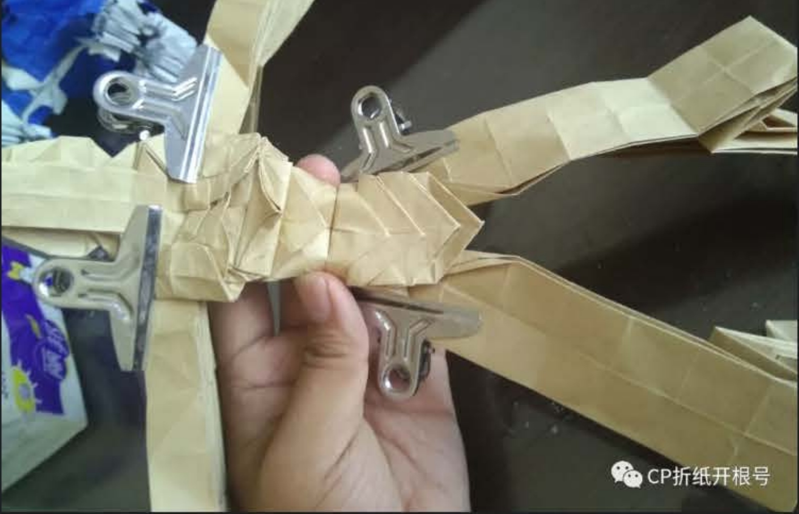
After adjusting, we will shape out the best shaped abdomen and fix it with glue.



Next step two, tidy up the arm

The last is to organize the head and legs. The back varies from person to person. Some people like to make their legs more wrinkled or something. Some people like to make their heads fierce.

You like it!

Well,
That's it for this issue!
See you next time!
