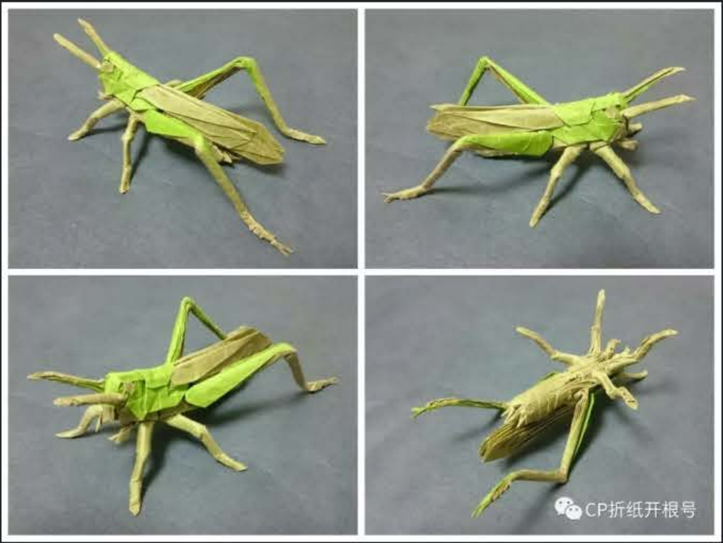
Origami Sharing Series No.46 A total of 115th issue of locusts

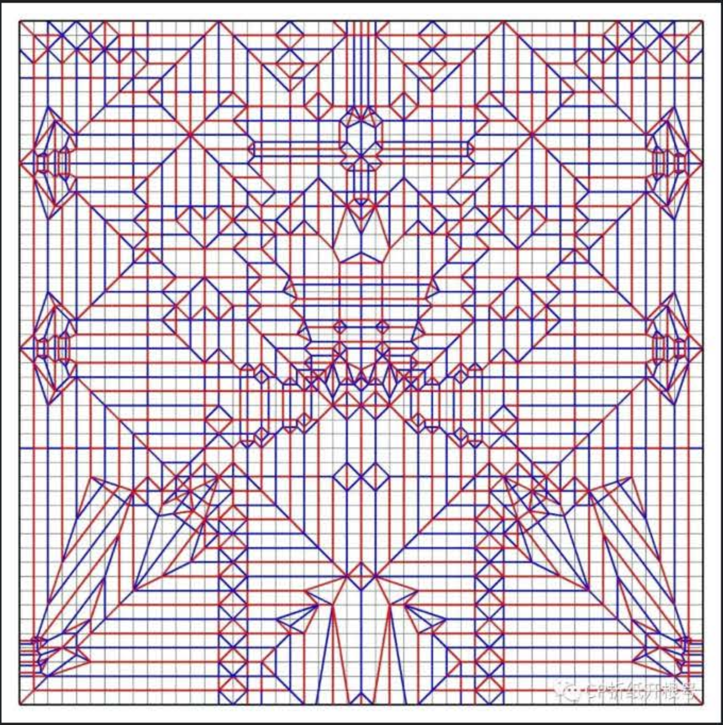
Original Origami Student Takayama CP Origami Opening Number 2019-10-13

Hello everyone, welcome to CP Opening!

Today I will play with you another Mr. Imai's work, locust. I do n't know what version it is. In fact, we have said a lot about the Cp of insects, but the details are as detailed as the belly and feet. Information on the face, chin, and other teeth is really rare, so this work is really worth talking about, and more worthy of a fold, two fold ,,,,,

Now let 's get to know this work, two-color locust





Works in this issue: 48-48 equally divided, square two-color

First of all, you find a piece of paper, three equal parts, and then 16 equal parts to complete 48 squares, line ,, and I wait for you

More than 40 minutes must be enough!

Next we started to aggregate. In order to facilitate the actual shooting, I still use large paper

First we start with the most familiar segment break according to the following figure

After segmentation, we complete the zigzag structure on both sides, which is also equivalent to a weak lock

Below we continue to aggregate the middle and lower parts. Here are some short-term lines that may be uncomfortable, but they are very useful for plastic surgery. If there is no such detailed design here, it can only be twisted during the final plastic surgery.

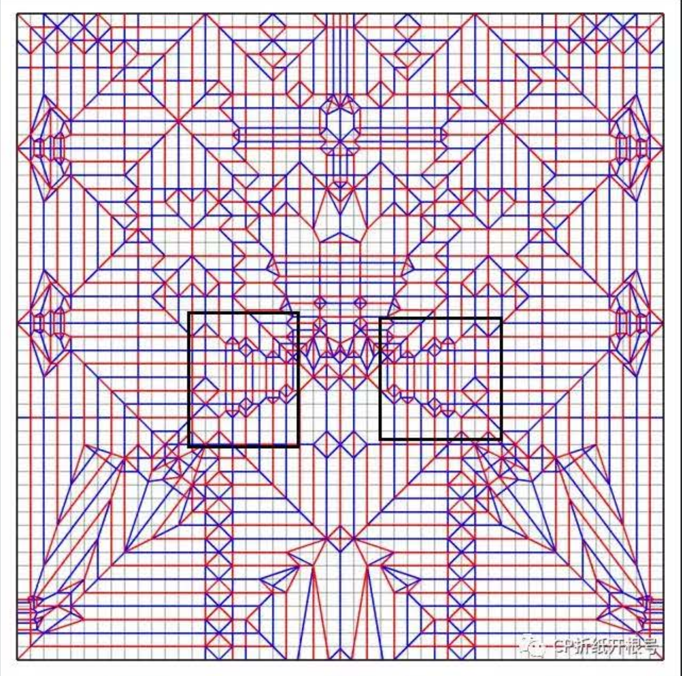
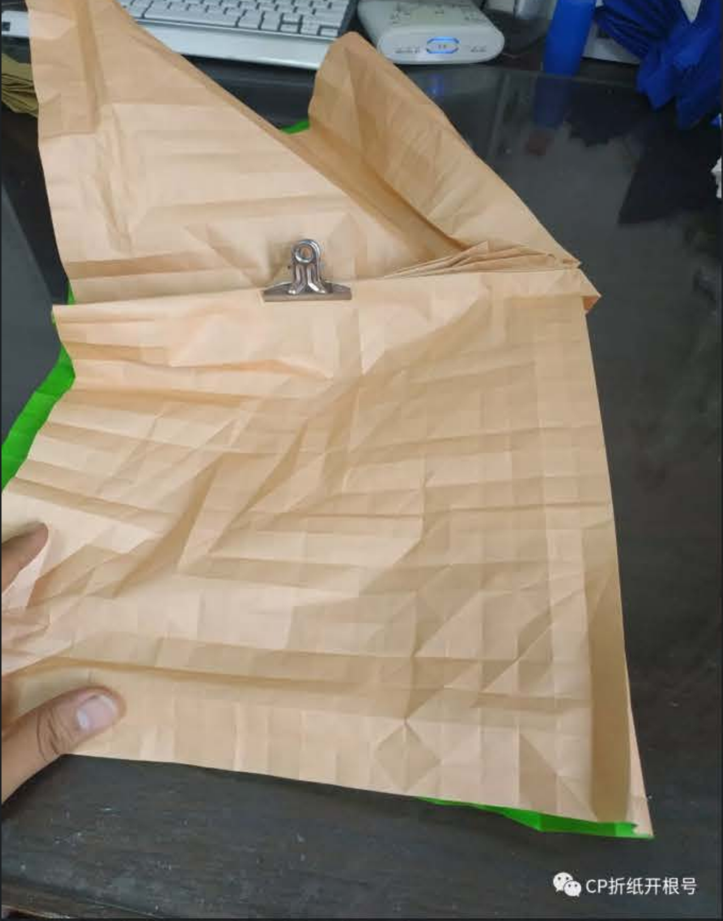
At this step, the paper has started to break. This kind of two-color is really not suitable for repeated folding for a long time. Next, we complete the small horizontal sawtooth that exists on both sides of the part just now.





CP折纸开根号

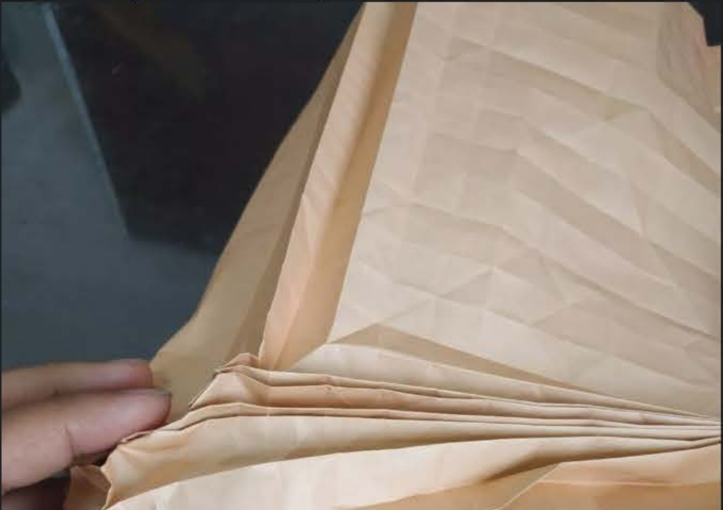
First close the grid on both sides up



CP折纸开根号

CP折纸开根号

Then just leave here to do the aggregation of the sawtooth structure

Next we are converging from the previous structure, the blue part in the figure below, it is worth mentioning here that the green frame is a continuous red line with a width of two grids two grids.

Yes, that 's what these two cells are.

Next, we aggregate downwards, aggregate the blue boxes in the picture below, and then complete the leg polymerization of the middle and lower parts in turn.

Next complete the left side, the same method

CP折纸开根号

Finally, organize the tail, adjust the position and shape

CP折纸开根号

Next take a few mid-foot aggregation details

Below, we continue upwards, the forefoot on the two sides of the aggregation is relatively good, and the various related squares in the red area

CP折纸开根号

CP折纸开根号

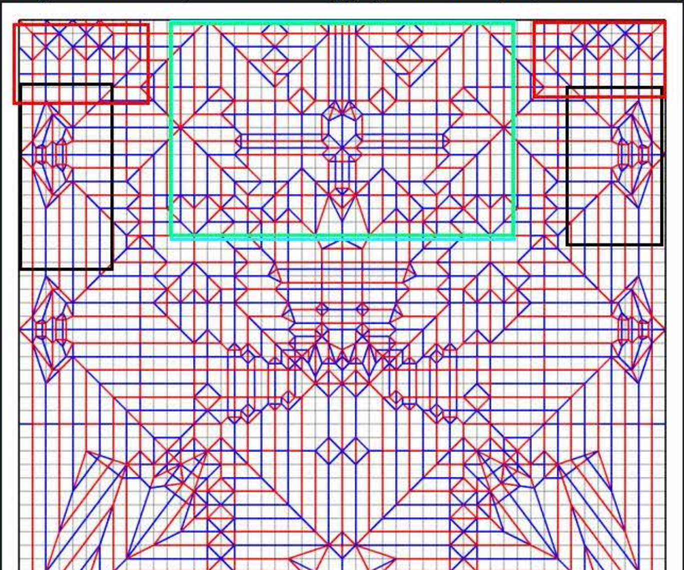
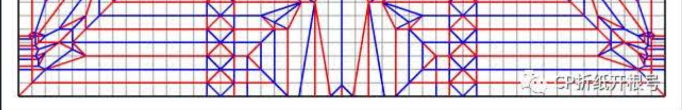
The most important thing to pay attention to when connecting small squares here is the existence of multiple paper layers, and the second is the aggregation of continuous peak and valley lines.

CP折纸开根号

CP折纸开根号

After folding on both sides, we started to aggregate the last part, the head and chest





SP折纸开根号

Here we can also subdivide the lower area, because this part appears in reverse in the finished product after being aggregated, so we might as well simply invert the aggregate of the work, but the peak and valley lines seen in the process should also be viewed in reverse. That's it.

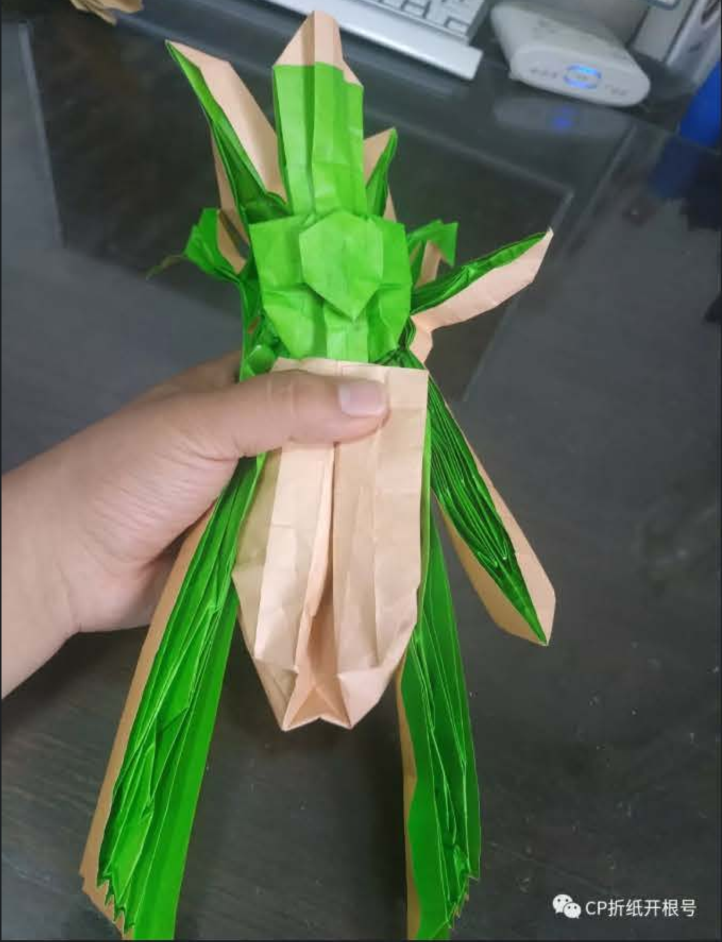
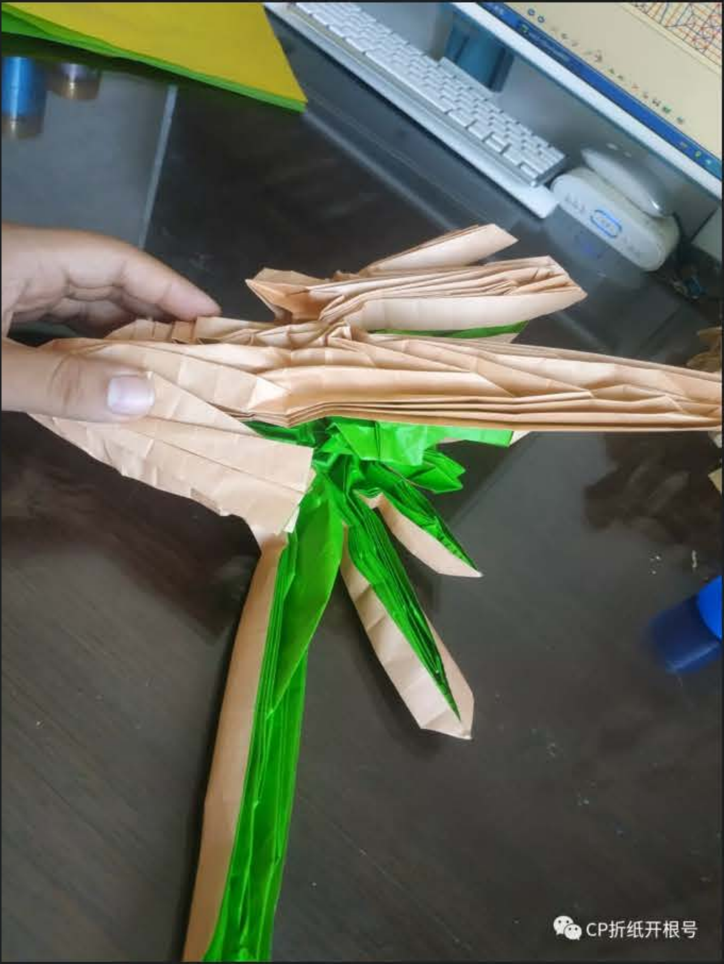
Next, the newly gathered tail is packed up, forming a large area of reverse color operation!



CP折纸开根号

CP折纸开根号

This bunch of things should be smoothed first, and then the branches should be sorted out.



CP折纸开根号

After clearing the branches, I decided to start plastic surgery from the stomach

how about it? It's not that difficult, I hope you all succeed!
Next month we will talk about a bug that is harder than this, which is also the work of Imai, I hope you will not hit the line to cry!
Come on, origami gentlemen!

See you next time!
