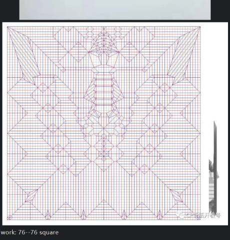
Origami Sharing Series No.44 Total 111th Imai Works: Another Prawn

Original origami student Takayama CP origami opening number2019-09-08

Hello everyone and welcome to CP Opening Numbers!

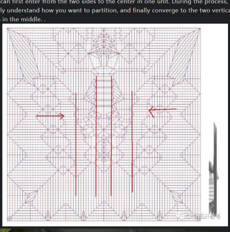
I will do another issue today if I have time. It is also the hardest work of this month. The comments on this work are not too early. It seems that there are many people who are looking forward to this work, but there are not too many people who want to fold it. We have said a lot of works, but there is very little feedback, mainly because his works are relatively difficult to connect or aggregate, and there are very few people who have patience to operate. Would you be one of them?

Let's take a look at this shrimp! I hope everyone is confident!

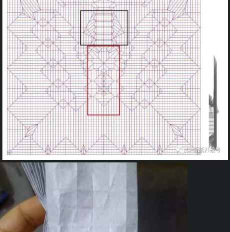


This work: 76--76 square

It will take more time to tie the lines and check the grid than in previous works. I hope everyone can hold on.
After the line is drawn, we should pay attention to the partitions in the following figure. You can first enter from the two sides to the center in one unit. During the process, you slowly understand how you want to partition, and finally converge to the two vertical lines in the middle. .

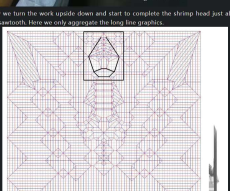


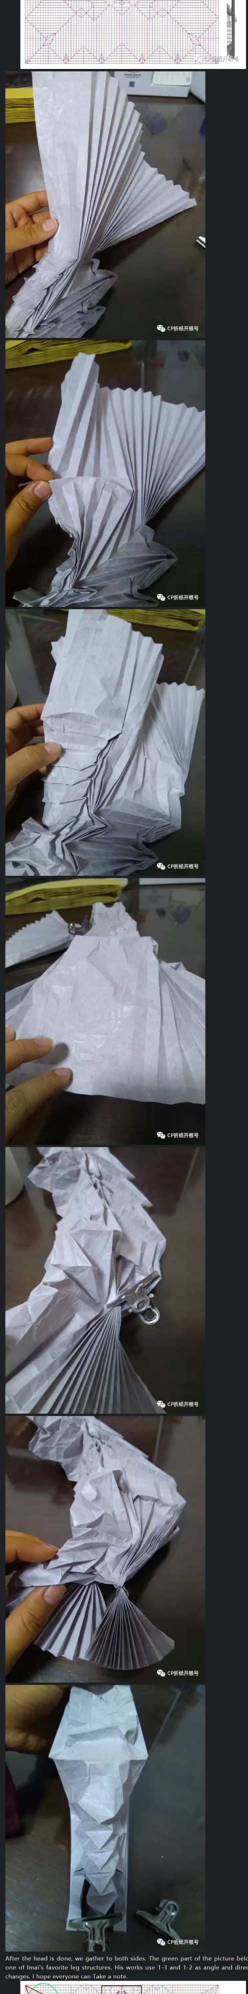
Next, we complete the zigzag structure in the black box in the figure below, and then complete the structure in the red box. The lines in the red box need to say that there are continuous valley lines and multi-layer operations, and large blocks need to be aggregated first. Pull away and redo.



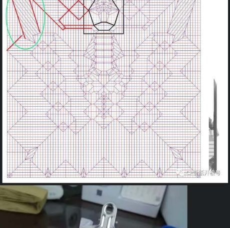
In order to make the works relatively flat during the aggregation process, we also need to aggregate the large sawtooth structures on both sides.

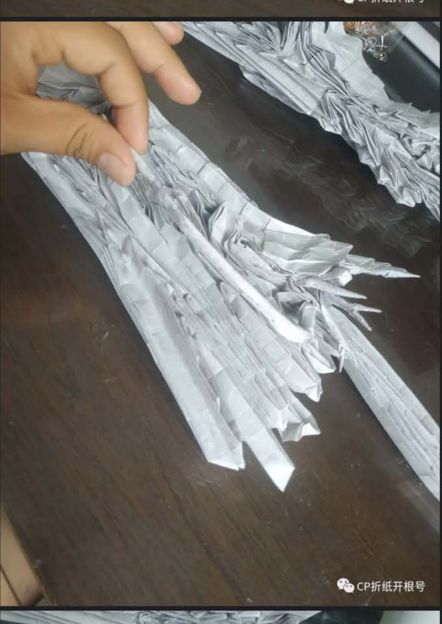
Now we turn the work upside down and start to complete the shrimp head just above the sawtooth. Here we only aggregate the long line graphics.

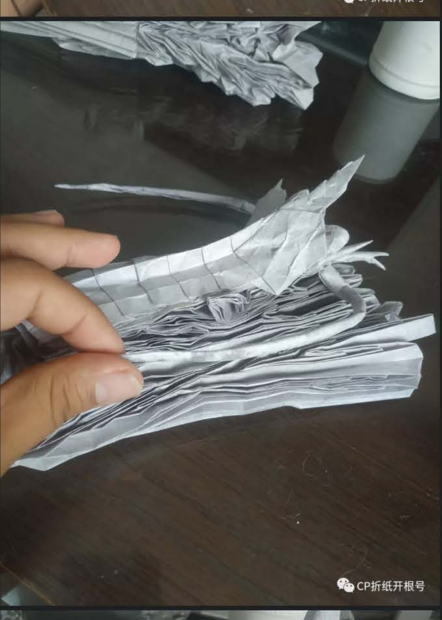


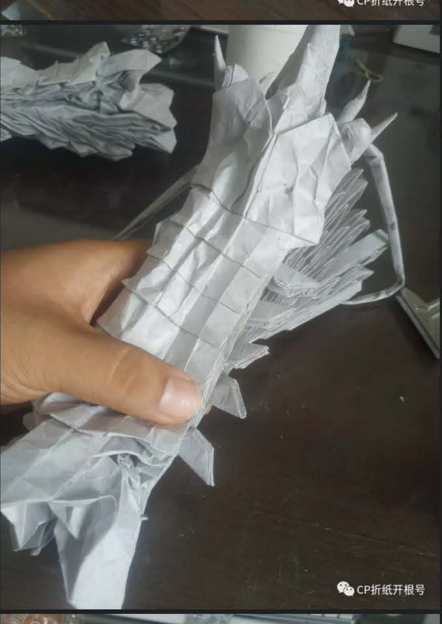


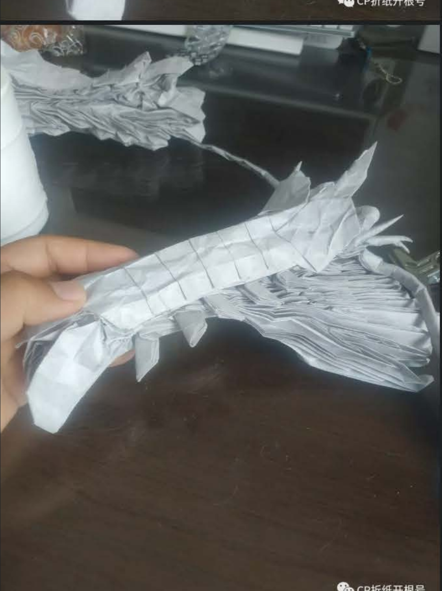
After the head is done, we gather to both sides. The green part of the picture below is one of Imai's favorite leg structures. His works use 1-3 and 1-2 as angle and direction changes. I hope everyone can Take a note.

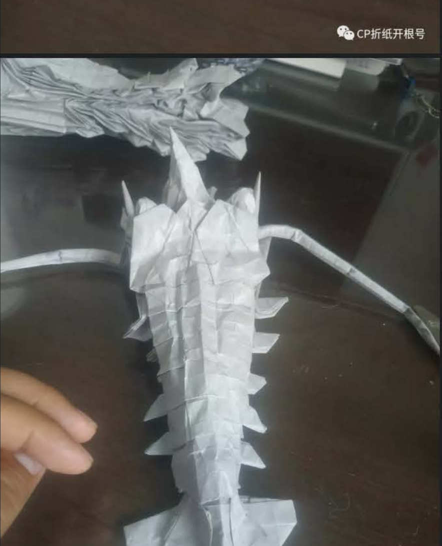


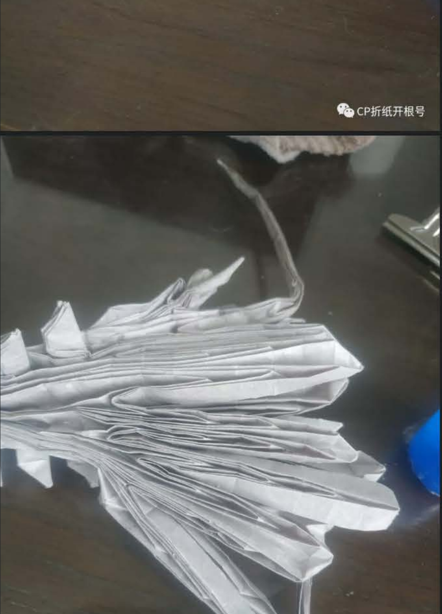


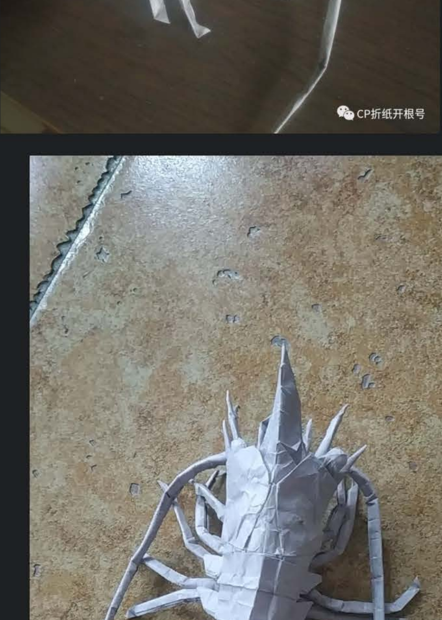


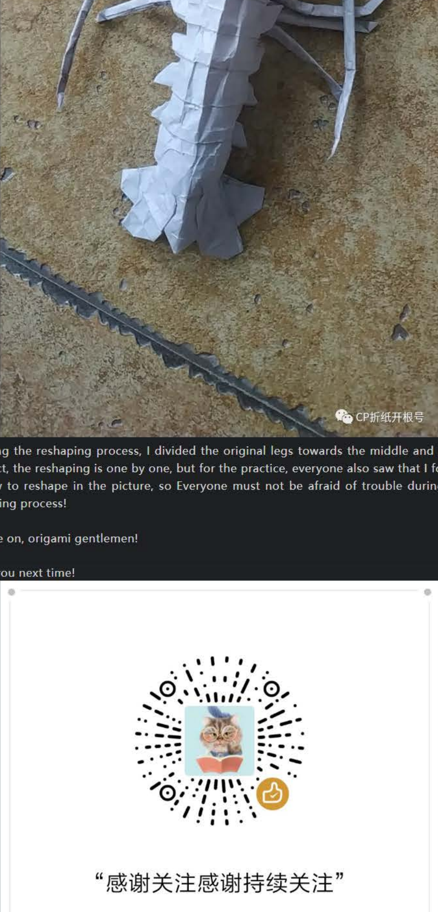












During the reshaping process, I divided the original legs towards the middle and back. In fact, the reshaping is one by one, but for the practice, everyone also saw that I folded a few to reshape in the picture, so Everyone must not be afraid of trouble during the learning process!

Come on, origami gentlemen!

See you next time!
